Visual Communication Design
> Web Development and Video Games

Santa Fe, February 2024

Hello!

I'm Román, specializing in Visual Communication Design with a comprehensive focus on Web Development and Video Games.

I received my education in Visual Communication Design from Universidad Nacional del Litoral. I completed the training programs for Front-End Developer in Argentina Programa 4.0 and Full Stack Node.js Developer in Codo a Codo 4.0. I have experience in web game development and composing original music.

My interdisciplinary education and ability to handle various technologies and tools enable me to tackle complex projects at every stage, from design to development. This capability allows me to efficiently coordinate different aspects of a project, contributing to its overall success.

Furthermore, I am known for promoting and positively contributing to teamwork, fostering a collaborative environment that I consider essential for achieving exceptional results in any project.

I am constantly seeking opportunities to learn and grow in my areas of interest, with the aim of building a successful career in the IT sector.
I attach my resume, where I detail my skills and experience, along with the link to my website showcasing some of my completed projects.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Román Ríos
